

Parents' sacrifices to fund children's education

The Value of Education: The price of success

Responses from a survey of 501 parents and 101 students in Canada

CAD 76,397

is the average amount students say they spend over the course of their degree

CAD 60,897

is the average funding gap between what students say they spend and parents say they contribute across an entire degree

71%

of students are working in paid employment while studying

48%

of parents wish they'd started saving for their child's university education earlier

56%

of parents stopped or reduced their leisure activities to support their child's university education

19%

of parents have taken on debt to help fund their child's university education

Information and/or opinions provided within this factsheet are sourced from The Value of Education, The price of success - Canada report, and constitute research information only and do not constitute an offer to sell, or solicitation of an offer to buy any financial services and/or products, or any advice or recommendations with respect to such financial services and/or products. 'Reproduced with permission from The Value of Education, The price of success, published in 2018 by HSBC Holdings.' To read The Value of Education, Price of success - Canada report, please visit <https://www.hsbc.ca/1/2/personal/investing/value-of-education> Survey conducted by Ipsos MORI in March and April 2018